The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) was created in 1953 as an independent agency of the federal government to aid, counsel, assist and protect the interests of small business concerns, to preserve free competitive enterprise and to maintain and strengthen the overall economy of our nation. We recognize that small business is critical to our economic recovery and strength, to building America’s future, and to helping the United States compete in today’s global marketplace.

How do I get a small business loan?
You should prepare a business plan, including your loan proposal, and submit it to a local lender. If the lender is unable to approve your loan, you may request that your application be submitted, by the lender, to the SBA. The SBA can guarantee up to 80% of a small business loan; however, the lender must agree to loan the money with the SBA guarantee. The lender will then forward your loan application and a credit analysis to the nearest SBA District Office. If the lender needs SBA applications and/or guidance it may contact the nearest SBA District Office by going to SBA. Upon SBA approval, the lending institution closes the loan and disburses the funds. For further information and eligibility requirements, please go to: http://www.sba.gov/financialassistance/borrowers/resources/basics/index.html

How do I get a small business grant?
At this time, Congress has not set aside any monies for grants to start and/or expand a small business. SBA does provide a loan guarantee program for loans made by your local lender. The SBA guarantees loans that the lender could not normally approve. However, all funding is handled through your local lender. For basic information visit: http://www.sba.gov/financialassistance/borrowers/index.html

How do I get started in a business?
The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) provides a wealth of information on starting a business at the SBA home page sba.gov under “Small Business Planner.” You will find information on writing a business plan as well. You may take advantage of SBA’s resource partners. How do I get a business license?
Licensing is generally handled through your state or local government. You will need to consult your local telephone directory in the "Government" section for an office that will assist you with a license or permit. See: http://www.business.gov/register/licenses-and-permits/

For FREE one-on-one counseling, please go to SBA's home page sba.gov and select "Local Resources" for an area local contact nearest you. The Service Corps of Retired Executives and the Small Business Development Center can assist you with your business venture.

How do I write a business plan?
If you go to SBA's home page sba.gov and select "Writing a Business Plan" under "Small Business Planner." You will find information on starting a business and writing a business plan. Under "SBA local resources" you can find local contacts such as the Service Corps of Retired Executives and the Small Business Development Center that provide FREE one-on-one counseling in the area of starting and expanding a small business. They can assist you by critiquing your business plan and your business ideas. You can locate a center by selecting "Local Resources" under sba.gov as well.

What type of collateral do I need for a loan?
Repayment ability from the cash flow of the business is a primary consideration in the SBA loan decision process but good character, management capability, collateral, and owner's equity contribution are also important considerations. All owners of twenty percent (20%) or more of the business are required to personally guarantee SBA loans. The SBA does not deny approval for a SBA Guarantee Loan solely due to lack of collateral; however, it can be used as a reason in addition to other credit factors. For more information on requirements on a SBA Guarantee Loan as well as our guarantee loan programs available, please visit us at SBA.

Is there any business assistance available in my area?
Yes. There are 375 SCORE: Counselors to America’s Small Business chapters and approximately 1,000 Small Business Development Centers (SBDC) nationwide. SCORE provides free expert advice based on many years of firsthand experience and shared knowledge on virtually every aspect of business. The SBDC provides a variety of management and technical assistance services to small businesses and potential entrepreneurs. To locate the nearest SCORE or SBDC in your area, please visit us at SBA and click on your state.

Careful planning is fundamental to success. The Small Business Planner includes information and resources that will help you at any stage of the business lifecycle.

“Capital Catalyst”
Highly structured and well-funded business creation partners (organizations or communities) dedicated to stimulating entrepreneurship may be eligible to receive seed grant funding. These funds are then made available to local startups, early stage and innovative businesses in the form of grants, debt and/or equity investments.

How It Works
WEDC provides seed grants typically ranging from $50,000 to $250,000 to approved organizations or communities (business creation partners) that have existing seed funds in place or the ability to create such funds. These business creation partners may then make grants, debt and/or equity investments in startups, early stage and innovative businesses that operate in their region. Loan repayments and returns on investment stay with the local partners to fund additional startups and create a supportive environment for entrepreneurs.

Partner Requirements
Recipients of WEDC Capital Catalyst funds must demonstrate the existence of programming to facilitate the creation of high-growth business startups, as well as the ability to provide training and mentoring to the startups that will benefit from seed grants awarded.

Recipients must match at least 1:1 the amount of seed grant funding provided by WEDC. In addition to providing documentation of this financial match, business creation partners must also provide WEDC annual reports and information on its investment committee and the criteria used to make investment decisions.

Program Requirements
Approved applicants must enter into a contract with WEDC prior to any disbursement of funds. WEDC funds must be dispersed within 18 months to companies operating in Wisconsin. Business creation partners must provide at least one-third of WEDC funds as grants to companies, ranging from $1,000 to $15,000, but are allowed to make debt or equity investments with the remaining funds.

It is expected that equity and debt investments will develop into an evergreen fund owned and managed by the business creation partner as companies are sold or loans are repaid.

Industry sectors targeted for Capital Catalyst seed grants include, but are not limited to: advanced manufacturing; agriculture or food processing; information systems or software; medical devices; and biosciences and renewable/green energy. Funds may not be used for investments in real estate, direct consumer retail or hospitality businesses, including restaurants.

Recipients will be required to provide quarterly and annual reports on the number of awards made from the fund, the type and amount of each award, the recipient of each award, the number of jobs created, and the amount of capital investment leveraged.

Reporting by recipients will be required for five years in order to analyze the long-term results of the program.

“Seed Accelerator”
The Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) provides grants to eligible communities to launch a pre-seed business model program that incorporates training, mentoring and financial assistance for entrepreneurs in their area. Grant funds may be used for costs associated with initiating and sustaining an accelerator program, as well as for seed capital for companies in the accelerator.

How It Works
WEDC’s Seed Accelerator Program provides grants to eligible communities and other organizations to support a pre-seed business model program that incorporates training, mentoring and financial assistance to entrepreneurs in their area. Grant funds may be used as seed capital for companies in the accelerator, as well as for costs associated with initiating the accelerator program.

Partner Requirements
An organization receiving WEDC Seed Accelerator Funds must demonstrate that its programs will be managed by an experienced entrepreneur(s) with relevant industry knowledge or commensurate knowledge satisfactory to WEDC. The organization must also provide a detailed plan for accelerator operations, including sustainable funding sources and program marketing.

The recipient must raise a minimum of 1:1 matching funds to support the implementation of its program, which is required to operate in Wisconsin and serve companies located in the state. The application, process and criteria the organization uses to make grants are also subject to WEDC approval.

Program Requirements
Recipients must implement programming that includes the Lean Startup methodology or other curriculum approved by WEDC that reflects similar best practices in business model design, including a process for developing, testing and validating the commercial viability of an idea.

Grant funds may be used as follows:

Operating costs: Up to $50,000 for accelerator startup costs for operations pre-approved by WEDC. Eligible costs may include program manager training, curriculum development or other expenses related to initiating operations.
Grants for businesses: Up to $300,000 to recipients to provide direct grants to companies in the accelerator.

Factors determining the level of funding for grants to businesses include the number of companies per class (typically 10–12) and the length of the seed accelerator program for each class (typically three or six months). The amount of grant funding available per company is generally between $5,000 and $50,000.

Recipients may be eligible for additional funding cycles based on pre-defined performance metrics and their ability to raise additional matching funds. Recipients will be required to provide periodic reporting on data related to program performance.

“Early Planning Grant”
The Early Planning Grant (EPG) program is designed to help individual entrepreneurs and small businesses throughout Wisconsin obtain the professional services necessary to evaluate the feasibility of a proposed start up or expansion. Under the EPG program, the Wisconsin Entrepreneurs’ Network (WEN) – with funding from the Wisconsin Department of Commerce – can provide applicants with a grant to help cover a portion of the cost of hiring an independent third party to develop a comprehensive business plan. In addition to formalizing an entrepreneur’s goals and objectives, a well-prepared business plan is critical to the applicant’s ability to attract the capital financing necessary for the business to be successful. Eligible EPG project costs are limited to the professional services necessary to obtain a comprehensive business plan. Professional services must be provided by independent third party service providers listed in the WEN Private Sector Service Provider Directory. Providers not listed in the Directory may use the electronic application form to set up an account and create an online profile.

The maximum funding available for Early Planning Grants is 75% of eligible project costs up to $3,000. There is typically more demand for EPG funds than there are funds available. As a result, the application process is competitive and not all projects can be funded.

Writing the Plan
What goes in a business plan? The body can be divided into four distinct sections:

· Description of the business
· Marketing
· Finances
· Management
Agenda should include an executive summary, supporting documents, and financial projections. Although there is no single formula for developing a business plan, some elements are common to all business plans. They are summarized in the following outline:

- Small Business Lending: Simple application. Quick approval decisions. Designed for those who need just a few thousand dollars.
- Marketing Support: Specializing in Direct Marketing. Getting the word out about your business.
- Business Expansion Planning: Adding products or services. Another location. Adding staff. How to grow your business.

How It Works
Start by calling SWCAP Business Development at 608-935-2326. We can send you information, or... Even better, we can schedule a meeting that lets us learn how we can best support your business venture. There is no fee for this meeting.
